
ACHIM FEIGE

Top Management Advisor
CEO Companion, Head Coach & Transformation Architect

Achim Feige is a thought leader, speaker, conscious entrepreneur and an enthusiastic trainer and "mountain guide" for the Transformative Class - leaders of all kinds who want to contribute to the necessary change in business and society. Top leaders and leading teams trust Achim Feige when they need new mindsets and want to make a difference.

Before Achim Feige spent 20 years coaching and advising the top leaders of DAX, ATX and SWX companies on international strategic change projects, he played basketball in top-class sports, learning how to bring top performance to the point, bring about fundamental change and overcome boundaries.

He developed his view of the future in the following years at the Zukunftsinstitut in Frankfurt with Matthias Horx. As a partner at BrandTrust in Nuremberg, he then deepened his experience with transformation through values and on the topic of brand mission and vision. In his 40s, he decided to focus on his beginnings again and makes extraordinary top performance and personality development his mission. So he studied at the international Big Mind Academy in the USA and worked in the "Flow Genome Project" of Jamie Wheal and Steven Kotler as an International Executive Coach. Together with his partners at VERTICAL DEVELOPMENT, he has made it his mission to empower entrepreneurs, CEOs, top executives and organisations on the basis of neuroscientific findings, protocols and tools - with a pinch of "wisdom traditions" from the inside out, "to wake up, grow up and show up". To achieve lasting peak performance with less stress, more energy and inner freedom, to let others grow and thus increase their positive influence in a new world. Without burning out.

Achim Feige is the author of three books on the future of management as well as numerous articles, and a sought-after keynote speaker.
